Specially designed for easy operation in tight corners where other wrenches can not be used.

Totally forged, with dual heat treatment.

Due to the special design of the teeth, allows the pipe to be tightened or released alternately without changing the position of the wrench.