

An exceptionally strong bar in relation to its length and weight.

Made of highly tempered alloy spring steel.

Chisel end is finely tapered to allow easy wedging.

A professional tool for construction industry.

Designed to require less than 90 degree angle for claw end to be used for lifting.